

Winter COLOR

Broadway star Sutton Foster brightens up the streets of Brooklyn, the location for her new show, Younger, in clothes that'll take you right through spring

DAYTIME SPARKLE

Shimmer before dark is a thing! But if you're afraid you'll be mistaken for a disco ball, limit the glitz to your accessories. A glittery clutch and silver pumps make a casual look insta-glam.

A SKIRT WITH FLOUNCE

This full, knee-length style is forgiving and fabulous, especially in neon pink. Add red pumps (yes, red—the combo works because red and pink are so close on the color wheel). Then tame the girliness with a neutral, like this white knit top.

COLOR-BLOCKING

Pair two solid shades to create one hot outfit. Exhibit A: this peekaboo pencil skirt and simple turtleneck. Pink and orange are a cool combo because, like pink and red, they're neighbors on the color wheel.

PAINTER PRINTS

Consider it the Jackson Pollock effect: Artsy paint-splattered patterns will be everywhere and on everything this spring. We love the subtle black drip trim on this flowy skirt. Paired with a flirty cami and strappy heels in a notice-me color, it's the perfect date-night alternative to the LBD.

spotlight on... SUTTON

A two-time Tony Award winner (for her Broadway performances in Thoroughly Modern Millie and Anything Goes), Sutton, 39, acts, sings and dances—a tried-and-true triple threat. This spring, she takes a break from theater to costar with Hilary Duff and Debi Mazar in TV Land's Younger, about a 40-year-old single mom who reenters the working world by pretending she's 26. In real life, Sutton's about to turn 40 (bring it on, she says). Here, the newly married New Yorker talks about love, life—and cute clothes.

FAVORITE FASHION TREND

Flats and skinny jeans. I grew up in the 1990s, when it was all about the clunky heel and the boot cut. Back then, I thought it was so flattering! Ten years from now, we'll look back and go, "OMG, flats and skinny jeans? What?"

ON TURNING 40...

I'm looking forward to it. I recently got married [to screenwriter Ted Griffin], and we're talking about having a family. I found out my grandmother was 40 when my mom was born in 1947, so I feel like there's still hope for me!

...AND AGING GRACEFULLY

I know there's Botox and all these skin-firming treatments, but I'm afraid they'll make me look weird. Right now, I'm just trying to eat better and sleep without my face smushed on a pillow.

BEST ADVICE FROM MOM

My mom passed away a year ago, but she raised me to be independent—financially and emotionally. I like knowing that I can completely take care of myself.

TWITTER, FACEBOOK OR INSTAGRAM?

Instagram. It's a fun window into people's lives. Mine [@suttonlenore] is pretty tame. I love posting pictures of my dog and places I've hiked.

IDEAL SUNDAY MORNING

The day would involve cozy couches, coffee and breakfast, and a walk with our dog, Mabel. She's a rescue.

SNOW WHITE COAT

The winter blahs don't stand a snowball's chance against a light, cheery topper. Shop for a long, blazer-cut style with a stand-up collar.

ONLY IN NEW YORK

Shop for one-of-a-kind items made by Brooklyn designers at Wolves Within, a boutique carrying a well-curated mix of clothing, accessories and artwork. More into home decor? Walk one block to Home of the Brave (above; owned by the same team). wolveswithin.com

CRAFT COCKTAILS

Bartenders double as expert mixologists at Ramona, a new arrival in Greenpoint. Stop by for the potent happy-hour drinks or just to ooh and ahh over the pretty two-story space. ramonabarnyc.com

TASTE OF NAPLES

Be sure to save room for a slice of one of Brooklyn's famous pies. Paulie Gee's makes the best in an oven imported from Napoli. Order the Regina, above, or the signature Greenpointer—you can thank us later! pauliegee.com

HOT HOTELS

Find apartment-style accommodations at the Box House Hotel, or venture just over the Greenpoint line into Williamsburg to the Wythe Hotel (below), a former cooperage constructed in 1901 that's now a nightlife destination, thanks to in-house eatery Reynard and the Ides Bar. theboxhousehotel.com, wythehotel.com

48 HOURS IN

GREENPOINT

Forget Manhattan—for panoramic skyline views, Brooklyn's northernmost neighborhood, a half-hour(ish) subway ride from midtown on the E and G trains, is the place to be. Go for delicious eats (inspired by the area's Polish roots), stylish shopping and pretty parks

COMFY CUISINE

A meal at cozy and inviting Anella (where Sutton is seated above) is a must-try for the seasonal New American cuisine. Make a reservation for dinner, or plan to linger over a late-morning brunch. anellabrooklyn.com Sweatshirt, $40, everlane.com. Pants, $295, pinktartan.com. Shoes, $130, tjmaxx.com.
